So I'm rocking an MPK25...Everything was fine with the default mapping until I tried to do some custom mapping while working on a drumkit. The knobs in the top right of the unit seem to already be mapped to other elements of ableton (except for a few) and wont allow me to make custom maps to certain elements of my drum kit (without permanently changing the map to that one knob via global mapping)

Ableton and Akai MPK25 Mapping : abletonlive - reddit

I just received my MPK 249 and I have ableton live 9 suite. When I choose MPK49 as the control surface, ableton doesn't recognize the MPK240. It just says Midi device #2 and has 4 ports. Furthermore, when Live Lite is selected as the preset, the pads don't play in order. for example pad 4 plays pad number 5 in ableton and it just skips around.
